

DAAD Training Module: Competitive research proposal writing

Trainer:

Galal-Edeen, Galal H. Prof. Dr.

Target Group:

PhD candidates

Language Of Instruction:

English

Duration:

1 Day (09:00 – 16:00 GMT +1)

CONTENT

- Types of research proposals.
- The research funding call.
- The characteristic of a winning proposal.
- Preparing to write a proposal: what are the steps?
- Working with a team to develop a proposal.
- What happens after submission?
- Editorial matters

LEARNING OUTCOME

By the end of the module, participants will be able to:

- Explain the concept of a competitive research proposal.
- Identify the main characteristics of a winning proposal.
- Identify the main reasons for proposal non-acceptance.
- Explain the various sections of a typical competitive research proposal.
- Plan effectively for generating a good research proposal.
- Appreciate the importance of paying close attention to the call for research funding proposal.
- Value early planning and acting for writing a proposal.

ORGANIZATIONAL REMARKS

Training methods include: Presentations; Group work & case studies; Discussions & interactive Sessions.

TRAINER PROFILE

Prof. Galal Hassan Galal-Edeen is a professor of Information Systems Engineering at Cairo University, and The American University in Cairo. He served as Head of Department, Vice Dean and University Chair on Innovation. He trained widely in Europe, North Africa, and the Middle East on topics such as Software Engineering, Information Systems, Training of Trainers & Innovation Management and Strategy. He has had experience working with several UK universities in different full-time roles for many years and has won research funding from agencies like the UK EPSRC, EU, AUC and USAid, and served as an STDF chief innovation adviser & project selection committee member.